Thomas Dietrich Paints Mural About Luther for AAL Building

BY SUSAN LAROSE

The imposing figure of Martin Luther dominates the mural designed for the Aid Association for Lutheran's building by Thomas Dietrich, artist in residence at Lawrence. Successive states in the development of this mural are a major part of Mr. Dietrich's one-man show now at the Worcester Art center.

Luther is dominant in the mural not only because of his large, full-length portrait, but also because of the consequences of his work which Dietrich has chosen to portray.

"Luther and the Reformation," the title of the mural, was aptly chosen, for Luther is depicted with his back toward the things against which he revolted. He stands before a church on the door of which his "95 Theses" have been posted.

In front of Luther are the consequences of his Biblical translation, his simplification of the catechism, his hymns and his other work directed toward furthering the knowledge of the Word.

Obtained Ideas From Book

Dietrich obtained many suggestions concerning Luther's reforms from the book, "Here I Stand," a life of Martin Luther by Roland H. Bainton, which was suggested to him as source material by Dr. Craig Thompson and Dr. E. Graham Waring. The book states Luther's firm belief that "The true Christian church is the work of the Word communicated in every available means."

Having wished to present Luther as a man of 34, Dietrich collected approximately 20 prints of portraits of Luther done by his contemporaries. Luther was 34 when his Theses were tacked to the church door.

Most of the portraits, however, showed the founder of the Lutheran church as an older man; some of them were caricatures. Dietrich, therefore, formulated his conception of the young Luther from the collected pictures and drew it.

After the theme of a mural has been decided, the first sketch is made in color. The first color sketch that Dietrich made was not of Luther, but rather of the history and development of the Appleton area. The board of directors of the AAL then met and suggested "something to do with Martin Luther" as a possible mural theme.

Drew Small Sketch

The small color sketch of "Luther and the Reformation" was accepted. The next step involved the drawing of a small black and white sketch on which various corrections of architectural detail were made.

Dietrich then constructed a vertical surface of beaverboard the size of the full-sized, finished mural. He covered it with paper, and drew a full sized black and white sketch or "cartoon" of the mural, making more corrections with each step.

An oil painting of the finished painting in miniature is the next step, and the final step before the mural is put on the full-sized canvas. At the present time, the mural is on the vertical wall that Dietrich constructed at the Worcester art center. Parts of it are finished, and the entire canvas has an undercoating.

The finished mural will be hung in a place that was intended as the "archives alcove" of the Lutheran Aid building. Although this alcove was not originally intended for a mural, it is well suited for one because of its size and lighting.

Mural on Sea Bottom

Another of Dietrich's murals had a very interesting life. This mural was designed for a salon of a passenger liner which was recommissioned as a navy ship during the war.

Since the mural had New York city as a subject, it was left on the ship to "boost morale." It happened, however, that this was the only major ship sunk in the African invasion. It now rests at the bottom of the Mediterranean sea. Fortunately, Dietrich's other works did not have so tempestuous a career.

A fine cross-section of his portraits and landscapes in watercolor, oil paint and pastels, are on display at the Worcester art center with the mural demonstration.

Science Winners Are Announced

Dr. Stephen F. Darling, professor of chemistry, was in Madison recently to announce the winners in the Wisconsin Science talent search contest, conducted by the Wisconsin Junior Academy of Science, a division of the Wisconsin Academy of Sciences, Arts and Letters. Dr. Darling is chairman of the Talent search committee of the senior academy.

All winners were graduating seniors from Wisconsin high schools who participated in the National Science Talent Search sponsored by the Westinghouse Science Scholarship committee and conducted by Science clubs of America.

As part of the national talent search each student passed the rigid National Science Talent Search examination and conducted and prepared a scientific report on a research project.

Cars will be allowed on campus after May 16. Students are requested to find places to keep them, since streets or college property are out of bounds.

Golfers to Play Two Matches Next Week

Tee Men to Meet Marquette, Ripon

The Lawrence college tee men will play two matches during the next week. On May 9 they will tee off against the golfers from Marquette University at the Riverview country club. Then on May 12 they will battle the Ripon redmen in a conference meet, also at Riverview.

Con Defferding will play in the number one spot; Jim Brown will play as number two man; Luther Dearborn will be the number three golfer; John Purves will play in the four man spot; Cory Young will play in the number five spot; and Bob Moore will play as number six man.

Both the Marquette squad and the Ripon squad will have strong men. But golf, unlike many other sports, is unpredictable and Lawrence could do the unexpected.

Ripon has one of the strongest golf teams in the conference. This year, as it was last year, the squad is headed by number one man in the conference, Werner Menck. Menck is a junior and last year had an all year average of 77.5. Defferding will oppose him for Lawrence.

Marv Prellberg is the only other returning letterman to the Ripon squad. Jim Brown will face him. The other members of the Ripon squad are newcomers.

There were two other lettermen that were supposed to return to their squad this year but due to academic difficulties they won't be able to compete.

Both matches will start promptly at 1:00.

Annual Water Ballet to be Held

Members of Aqua Fin will present their second annual water ballet show Friday, May 15 at 7:45 p.m. The show, to be held at Alexander gymnasium, will be given in conjunction with a mixed swim which will take place immediately after the performance.

Elizabeth Taylor heads Aqua Fin this year, and those swimming in the show are: Ellie Barber, Kay Bayer, Joan Bernthal, Shirley Burhop, Jean Gahnz, June Jacobsen, Marty Manderson, Kay Murray, Joanne Jacobsen, Donna Nyzaeh, Barbara Randall, Jeanne Ripple, Peg Stewart, Bev Socha and Chris Swanson.

Tom Warren, Dave Jones and Spence Roberts will appear in a comedy number.

The gymnasium will be open that night at 7:00 p.m. to anyone wishing to play ping pong, badminton, volleyball or basketball.

Vike Thinclads to Face Three Squads in Four Day Stretch

Vikes Lose One Set Beating Oshkosh 9-0

The Vike netters squad slammed its second straight opponent Monday afternoon, defeating Wisconsin state college of Oshkosh 9-0 on the Lawrence courts.

The only set the Vikes lost in Monday afternoon's match was the second set of the No. 3 singles when Bob Deubler of Oshkosh nipped Ed Grosse 8-6 but Grosse won the first and third sets 6-0. In fact the Vikes lost only one other game in singles play when Charley Cobb of Oshkosh, after bowing 6-0 to Ron Myers in the opening set, managed to take one game from Myers in the second set.

The summary:

Singles

Ralph Tippet, Lawrence, defeated Dick Rather 6-0, 6-0.

Ron Myers, Lawrence, defeated Charley Cobb 6-0, 6-1.

Ed Grosse, Lawrence, defeated Bob Deubler, 6-0, 6-8, 6-0.

Dick Gast, Lawrence, defeated Ron Dawson 6-0, 6-0.

Elmer Pfefferkorn, Lawrence, defeated Lyle Bruss, 6-0, 6-0.

Dick Olson, Lawrence, defeated Carlton Mertens 6-0, 6-0.

Doubles

Grosse and Gast, Lawrence, defeated Cobb and Deubler 6-1, 6-4. Tippet and Myers, Lawrence, defeated Rather and Bruss 6-2, 6-3.

Pfefferkorn and Olson, Lawrence, defeated Dawson and Mertens 6-0, 6-1.

To Meet LaCrosse, Michigan Tech And Oshkosh Here May 9, 11, 12

BY DON CARLSEN

For four days, starting May 9, the Lawrence college thinclads will delve into the thickest competition of the 1953 track season. On May 9, Lawrence will meet the tracksters from La Crosse State college, on May 11 they will meet the Huskies from Michigan Tech; and on May 12 they will meet Oshkosh State college. All the meets will take place at the Whiting field.

Three meets in four days is enough competition for any team, no matter how well they are trained. And while none of the teams that Lawrence will face are considered to be dangerous, Lawrence will be at a definite disadvantage because of the strenuous grind they will be subject to.

Squad Not Balanced

Another reason Lawrence will be at a disadvantage is that they don't have a well balanced squad this year. There are individual performers, but individual performers don't make for a well functioning team.

The best men that Lawrence have are dispersed over a small area of the track squad. Dick Bledsoe, pole vaulter and this year's captain, is perhaps the out-

Lawrence-Mich. Tech Track Meet Postponed

Monday afternoon, May 11, has been set as a postponement date for the Lawrence-Michigan Tech dual track meet, according to athletic director A. C. Denny. The meet was originally scheduled for last Saturday afternoon at Whiting field.

The Houghton, Mich., school team is slated to be at Stevens Point Saturday, May 9, and can stay over the weekend and take on the Vikes May 11.

Favored Pointer Thinclads Top Lawrence, 78-51, in Dual Meet

Central State college of Stevens Point slammed two events and got double victories from three individuals in beating Lawrence 78-51 in a dual track meet last week.

Postponed from Saturday afternoon, the outdoor opener for both squads was almost washed away a second time, but late afternoon rains subsided about 15 minutes before the scheduled start and the contest was staged under cold, wet and windy conditions.

Expected close contests did not develop in either the mile or two-mile runs as Ed Jacobsen, Points' two-time Wisconsin State college champion in both events, won the shorter race by a good 20 yards from Vike thinclad Win Jones and the longer event by 15 yards from Bob Zimmerman.

Capelle Wins Two

Don Capelle was Lawrence's only double winner with firsts in the hurdles, and Jones was runner-up in Vike scoring as he got a first in the half-mile along with his second in the mile.

Capelle

Charley Cianciola in the broad jump, George Oetting in the shot put and Don Randall in the high jump were other Lawrence winners, Randall tying for first in his specialty.

standing member of the squad. He has taken several first places this year and he will probably take first place in the conference meet.

Bob Zimmerman, a senior and a distance runner, is considered to be one of the outstanding milers in the conference along with his running mate, Win Jones. Both men have scored heavily against Lawrence opponents this year.

Having Good Season

George Oetting, a weight man, is coming up fast this year. He has come into his own in several meets this spring and he is experiencing his best track season.

The Vikes have several other track men that are climbing fast into the ranks of better-than-average runners. They are: Don Capelle, a hurdler; Sal Cianciola, a high jumper; Rog Kennedy, a distance man; Dwight Peterson, a 440 man; and Kurt Schoenrock, a sprint man.

Though it would be hard to say that Lawrence will be favored in any of the three track meets, it is still hard to count them out. There will be a terrific strain imposed upon the track men in the next four years, but anything might happen.

Vike Golfers Lose, Netters Win at Ripon

The Viking golfers dropped an 11-5 decision, and the Vike tennis team won 8-0 to split with Ripon at Ripon last week.

The golf scores were high due to the wet and cold weather and the tough Lawsonis course at Green Lake. Wayne Pinkalla of Ripon was medalist with an 82. Ripon collected the team point for total medal honors.

It was Lawrence's first golf meet of the season.

The netters lost only two sets in the process of their 8-0 defeat of Ripon. Teschner of Ripon defeated Ron Meyers in the second of three sets, 6-4, but Myers won the first 6-4 and the third, 6-3.

The No. 1 doubles match was halted because of rain. Ed Grosse and Dick Gast lost the first set to Tom Teschner and Pat Casperson of Ripon, 1-6, won the second, 6-2, and then fought to a 7-7 tie in the third when the rains came.

The summaries:

TENNIS

Ralph Tippet, Lawrence, defeated Tom Knudson 6-2, 6-2.

Ron Myers, Lawrence, defeated Tom Teschner 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

Unlimited Cut Plan Rejected at Wheaton

(ACP) The faculty at Wheaton college, Ill., has turned down a student council proposal which would permit unlimited class cuts. The vote was close.

Supporters of the plan felt unlimited cuts would give students a healthier attitude toward classes; they cited statistics indicating good attendance records at schools having unlimited cuts.

But the opposition declared that all this was "more theoretical than anything else." The plan, according to the dean, will not be discussed again this year.

Library Pest Describes Self

(ACP) I am the jerk that loves to go to the library. You'll always find me there when it's crowded. You're sure to find me around mid-term or final exam time.

How will you know me? That's simple. I'm the jerk who has to go outside for a smoke five minutes after I sit down.

First I slam my book closed so that all the bad heart cases almost die of shock. Then I crumple up my papers. Finally I push my chair back so that it wakes up those who nearly died. I'm sure to push the chair far enough and sufficiently hard enough to break a few ribs of the guy behind me.

Well, I'm outside now. It's a good time to exercise my vocal chords singing or whistling.

After a good session outside I struggle back to my seat — again disturbing as many as possible.

Don't you want to try a cigarette with a record like this?

1. THE QUALITY CONTRAST between Chesterfield and other leading cigarettes is a revealing story. Recent chemical analyses give an index of good quality for the country's six leading cigarette brands.

The index of good quality table — a ratio of high sugar to low nicotine — shows Chesterfield quality highest

... 15% higher than its nearest competitor and Chesterfield quality 31% higher than the average of the five other leading brands.

YEARS AHEAD OF THEM ALL!

from the editorial board

The following editorial is reprinted from the editorial page of the May 16, 1952 Lawrentian. At the spring conference meeting at Carleton that year a resolution was also passed that the Midwest Student conference had no connection with the Midwest athletic or any other type of conference, paving the way for admittance of colleges of similar aim outside of the sports conference.

At that time, this also strengthened the fact that the athletic group was under no obligation to reinstate Beloit, ostracized since 1950 on criticism of its athletic program. The constitution for the Midwestern conference now awaits faculty approval.

May we soon be able to say again, welcome back, Beloit!

we repeat:

welcome back, beloit

On May 2 and 3 (1952), the Midwest Conference of Student Governments convened at Carleton. At this meeting, Beloit college, which had previously been on a probationary status, was voted back into the student government conference as a full-fledged member.

Beloit was suspended from the conference last fall pending the investigation of its athletic policies by the student government. Beloit's student senate devoted a great deal of time to this project during the last six months and presented at Carleton a new code of athletic rules which is a very stringent one — probably more stringent than those of other schools in the conference. This action, on the part of Beloit, shows that she has a great interest in remaining in the student government conference and in re-entering the athletic conference.

Lawrence congratulates Beloit on her reinstatement in the student government conference and eagerly looks forward to the time when we shall be able to welcome Beloit back to the athletic conference.

room for improvement

Yesterday every Lawrentian was given an opportunity to reverse the direction of the adage, "There is always room for improvement." The purpose of the teacher evaluation scale is to point out to each teacher the effective and ineffective parts of his teaching method. We realize that the results are only student opinion, but we feel that each teacher will take advantage of this constructive criticism. Only with an interested attitude will worthwhile results be attained.

On the other hand, the results of this survey depend upon a high percentage of participation and serious cooperation by the students. We hope that Lawrence students are vitally concerned with the problem and we urge them to cooperate with the survey to the best of their ability.

an ounce of prevention . . .

From May 16, the date of the spring prom, through the end of the school year, students will be permitted to drive cars on the Lawrence college campus. This is the first time since the beginning of the school year that regulations have been relaxed to permit this.

Everyone knows that caution is needed when driving an automobile, but it is probable that during this hectic time at the end of the school year, an additional reminder is definitely in order. Each person who is privileged to have a car here, and those lucky enough to be going along for the ride, must take all precaution to avoid accidents.

One accident, slight or serious, might jeopardize any possibility of the no-car regulation being relaxed in the future for special occasions. It would serve to confirm the objections of those who hold that there is no justification for having cars on campus at any time.

Here's to making the most of this opportunity by using some discretion with the cars that are going to be here the next few weeks.

won't co-operate with investigations

Dean Carl W. Ackerman of the Columbia University School of Journalism announced last week that he would stop cooperating with agencies investigating his students "except on written request and advice of counsel."

Dean Ackerman said Federal agencies investigating students' political and social attitudes "interview professors, public school teachers and references, and follow up leads like prosecuting attorneys."

"Students are 'tried' secretly without their knowledge and without an opportunity of explaining or defending their records before employment by any governmental agency," he added. He said he "did not know of a single Communist being found among our graduates. . . .

"Today," he said in an article in the bulletin of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, "the vast majority of teachers in all fields of instruction have learned that promotion and security depend upon conformity to the prevailing community of national concept of devotion to 'the public welfare.'"

"There are not many classrooms in the country today," he continued, "where students are advised to be drastically independent."

from your president

The preliminary work of the Senate Planning committee is just about completed. This week several members will write up a formal statement of the purpose of this group, the reasons for such a senate, and the method of setting it up in the form of a petition which will be presented to the faculty for approval (we hope) by a faculty member who said he would speak for us.

This petition is the culmination of many weeks of hard work by the committee and takes into consideration all the sources of information and criticism we could gather. This is the only proper way of effecting such a group in the present system at Lawrence.

Postpone Mass Meeting

Originally we had planned a mass student and faculty meeting to discuss this question but we have decided to postpone this gathering until next fall when there are no imminent final exams and when there is time to discuss in detail the fields we may want to deal in.

It would be utterly improbable to deal immediately in judicial matters so we are waiting until the ground work of the senate is firmly established before holding a meeting to discuss a student judiciary, which is probably of greatest concern to you.

We hope to print a copy of that petition in next week's Lawrentian so that you can see just what our committee has done.

Ratify Constitution

Your SEC representatives have voted in favor of accepting the constitution of the Midwestern Conference of colleges; consequently, this matter will also be referred to the faculty for a vote at their next meeting.

The main sentiment of the representatives seemed to be that the student government conference is entirely separate from any college's athletic policies and therefore all the schools including Beloit are acceptable for such a conference. They felt that a school with such an excellent student government set-up should be included in our student government conferences.

Several student insurance plans have been submitted already and a committee will be set up to evaluate the different policies and pick out the ones most suitable to our needs. It may be too late to get one set up for next fall but we'll try to submit to you plans as soon as possible.

problem in deciding on 'greatest american'

An American history prof asked his class for a list of the eleven greatest Americans, reports the Postscript, Richmond Professional Institute, Va. While the students wrote, the teacher strolled around the room. Finally he paused at one desk and asked the youth if he had finished his list.

"Not yet," said the student, "I can't decide on the fullback."

students rate papers in nationwide survey

Most college students are satisfied with their campus newspaper — but not enthusiastic, according to a recent Associated Collegiate Press National Poll of Student Opinion.

Students across the nation were asked: How would you rate the job your college newspaper is doing in covering campus life? Here are the results:

Excellent 32 per cent
Good 45 per cent
Fair 17 per cent
Poor 5 per cent

BY OLE

Four years ago an alumnus told me that Lawrence was a "friendly" college, and as a freshman I became aware that everyone did say "hello" coming to and from classes. So I concluded that Lawrence was a friendly school. Now as a senior I find that this spirit of friendliness has to be re-examined and re-defined.

"Friendliness" belongs to that group of concepts for which no definition seems completely adequate. At one time or another most of us have heard sermons or read an essay on friendship, and many of us have experienced some form of it on the college campus, though sometimes unaware of it. Yet do we see beyond the limitations of its casual use?

To be specific: Frank and Ralph were college students who met in their freshman year and became close friends. Though they lived in separate fraternity houses for the last three years and saw each other only occasionally, they practiced a genuine, friendly spirit.

One Cheers The Other

Ralph was a born athlete—first string in football and basketball; Frank tried to play football but never got farther than the bench. Yet he was Ralph's loudest cheerer, giving him a needed boost in every game. And when the game was over, Frank did not say, "Nice game!" as do most spectators, unless Ralph actually played well.

Studies were easy for Frank, so he frequently lent a helping hand to Ralph or anyone else having difficulties in a subject. Each was willing to stand up for the name of the other. Thoughts were not weighed nor words measured in their conversations, and their sincerity shamed the habitual "hi, how are you" salutation.

Sometimes they discussed school problems, personal troubles—life in general over a cup of coffee in the Union or a beer uptown.

Now in some ways the above case is the extreme of two friends showing confidence and trust in each other. But in varying degrees this type of friendliness can be found on college campuses and at Lawrence—an atmosphere which includes more than just smiling "hi" to the passer-by. Obviously the friendliness of Ralph and Frank is a needed, healthy ingredient in student living.

Group Friendliness

But beyond these individual relationships this spirit also implicates student-group friendliness. For example: we should respond to the Mace-Mortar Board Song-fest next week by turning out in mass attendance. Or we can be receptive toward SEC-sponsored projects by offering to serve on decorations, clean-up, etc.

This support of campus activities, if not overdone, is part of the friendly temper. In this light Lawrence must have seemed "unfriendly" last Sunday night when the choir sang Haydn's "Creation." At the most only 20% of the audience were students, the rest parents and town people.

Of course, there are other areas in which we can practice a friendly spirit. Coffee hours, for one, bring together the student body and faculty-administration. Also faculty attendance at student functions helps to promote rapport. The important factor to consider is that a college does not become friendly by virtue of its unanimous "hello-ing."

Friendliness is comprehended by an active part rather than a passive voice. It does not suffice to doff our hats, then cross over to the other side of the road, disregarding a fellow traveler by the way. As we perform our friendships, then can college life truly be termed "friendly."
